MAJOR INDUSTRIES:

The economy of the Greater Oklahoma City region is diverse. While federal, state and local government are the largest employers, and the oil and natural gas sector generates the largest revenues, the area's major private sector economic contributors include:

- Aviation & Aerospace: With the largest concentration of aviation and aerospace firms in the state, the Greater Oklahoma City region's 265 firms employ 38,000 workers - and growing. Nearly 65 percent of the workforce at Tinker Air Force Base - the largest single site employer in the state - consists of civilian contractors and service providers.
- Bioscience: Oklahoma City's Bioscience presence is generating national and international attention. Companies within this industry are dedicated to providing Bioscience goods and services, as well as education and research testing.
- Energy: Oklahoma City is the Energy capital of the state. Energy accounts for approximately 3% of metro employment but more than 7% of total compensation. The sector draws its strength from several Energy companies with headquarters in the city.
- Health Care: As one of the nation's major centers of healthcare delivery, Oklahoma City employs more than 22,000 health care sector workers. The city's twenty general medical and surgical hospitals, four specialized hospitals and two federal medical installations combine to offer outstanding healthcare.
- Manufacturing: This broad category includes metals and machinery; building materials; food products; and medical devices and equipment. With more than 35,000 employed, the manufacturing sector represents approximately seven percent of the Oklahoma City MSA's total nonagricultural labor force.
- Professional, Business & Financial Services: Similar to the healthcare sector, the Oklahoma City region provides business and financial services to a market that extends beyond the state boundaries.
- Wholesale and Retail Trade: High retail trade activities are a direct result of Oklahoma City's centralized location and accessibility. The unique nature of Oklahoma's urban structure, with only two major urban centers (Oklahoma City and Tulsa), positions Oklahoma City as a major retail center. Presently, there are 21 trade areas with 214 centers throughout the Oklahoma City MSA, with total taxable sales of $12.7 billion annually.

EDUCATION

WORKING TOGETHER

Civic, business and education leaders developed a blueprint that has changed the area’s largest school district, Oklahoma City Public Schools, forever. In 2001, Oklahoma City voters approved MAPS for Kids, a comprehensive education reform plan that raised $700 million for Oklahoma City Public Schools and surrounding school districts.

In addition to building seven schools and renovating 65 others, the comprehensive plan calls for strategic academic reforms; improved student achievement; restored classroom discipline; and increased accountability with students, parents and the community.

This innovative vision for our school system was reaffirmed in October 2007, when voters overwhelmingly approved a $248.3 million bond by 78 percent! This support helped to earn Oklahoma City a spot as one of the “100 Best Communities for Young People” by the America Promise Alliance in 2005, 2007 and again in 2008.

HIGHER EDUCATION

In the Greater Oklahoma City area, there are 18 public and private colleges and universities, including two comprehensive universities, Oklahoma State University and the University of Oklahoma. These institutions of higher learning provide thousands of undergraduate and graduate degree opportunities. Oklahoma also has a nationally acclaimed Career and Technology system, offering programs and services in 29 technology center districts operating on: 56 campuses, 398 comprehensive school districts, 25 skill centers and three juvenile facilities. Not only do these centers provide training to high school and post-secondary students, they also provide invaluable training services to a variety of businesses in a number of different skill areas.
