Lawton, Oklahoma

Created at statehood from a portion of Comanche County, Oklahoma Territory, the word, Comanche, is believed to be derived from the Spanish "Camino Ancho", meaning broad trail. Originally a part of the Kiowa, Comanche, and Apache reservation, Comanche County was opened for homesteading by lottery on August 6, 1901.

Fort Sill, established by General Philip H. Sheridan as a cavalry fort in 1869, is now headquarters for the U.S. Army Field Artillery Center and School. The military reservation, which covers 95,000 acres, contains some fifty historic sites, including the Geronimo Guardhouse and the grave of Quanah Parker.

Lawton, the county seat, is home to Cameron University and the Great Plains Technology Center. The Lawton Community Theater and the annual Arts for All Festival are leading cultural activities of the area. The Museum of the Great Plains is both educational and entertaining with its outdoor prairie dog village, depot and trading post.

Nestled in the northwest corner of Comanche County, The Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge attracts over a million visitors annually. It is the site of the Holy City of the Wichita's where the annual Wichita Mountains Easter Sunrise Service is presented. Featuring several stocked lakes, numerous picnic and camping areas, a person can hike miles of simple or rugged terrain, observe various wild species in their natural habitat, such as wild buffalo, elk, and eagles. This natural preserve allows visitors to see and enjoy Oklahoma as it once was, a wild, yet peaceful land that rises from a flat prairie to high, overlooking mountain peaks.

Lawton Fort Sill is located at the base of the historic Wichita Mountains in Southwest Oklahoma. Lawton has become the home of world-class manufacturing, and software development companies that serve both domestic and international markets.

Since its days as a frontier Army outpost established in 1869 to guard the western edge of the Great Plains, progress has come quickly to Lawton. From Buffalo Soldiers to the world's largest tire plant; from Indian Chief Geronimo to cutting edge, software development, Lawton Fort Sill has become the economic hub of Southwest Oklahoma and beyond.

A vibrant city of almost 100,000, Lawton offers virtually every business and cultural amenity of a major market without big-city problems. Lawton is Oklahoma's third largest MSA with a workforce of over 110,000 from seven contiguous counties.

Lawton's public education system can take a student from pre-Kindergarten at Lawton Public Schools through postgraduate work at Cameron University. Add to this the Great Plains Technology Center, part of an Oklahoma system that is considered by many educators to be the premier workforce training program in the nation.
